RELIABLE TESTIMONY.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Sept. 8, 1882.
Hop Bitters Co.

I am 74 years old, have lived 34 years in Philadelphia, and well known among Germans. I have been troubled 12 years with a white swelling on my right foot, and getting worse every year, and very painful, and breaking out in hot weather. I consulted several doctors and they told me it was incurable, and that I would have to take it with me to the grave. Some time ago I lost my appetite, was costive, had headache, and fever, in fact was very sick. I saw in the German Democrat that Hop Bitters was what I needed. I got a bottle, took it one week and was as well as ever, and to my greatest surprise right from the first, my swelling went down gradually and I taking another bottle got entirely well of it. The wife of my neighbor had two such swellings on her legs and three bottles cured her. I think this is a great triumph for your bitters.

JOHN STOLL,
No. 4 Young's Alley, above Willow St.

STIPPSBILL, IND., Nov. 13, 1881.

DEAR SIRS—I have read so much about Hop Bitters and always being afflicted with neuralgia, weakness, diseased stomach, never having much health I tried a couple bottles; it has strengthened and helped me more than any medicine or doctor. I am now on my third bottle and am thankful that it has helped me. I will advise all that are afflicted to give it a trial.

LUCY VAIL.

BEAT THE WORLD.

ROCKVILLE, CONN., March 6, 1882.
Hop Bitters Co.

I have been taking your Hop Bitters for several weeks, and they beat the world.
L. S. LEWIS, Lewis' axles machine.

LEETONIA, PA., April 13, 1882.
Hop Bitters Co.

I have not been well for three years, tried almost every kind of patent medicines and no less than seven doctors; one of Elmira, N. Y., none have done me any good. I finally tried your Hop Bitters and found them just the thing. I have praised them so highly there is a great number here who use them with great benefit and satisfaction.

Very Respectfully yours, R. HUNT.

GENTLEMEN—The "Hop Bitters" meet with large sales and give general satisfaction, one case in particular you should know of. Mr. John B. Greene, 728 Spring Garden St., Phila., Pa., has been suffering from kidney affection, which superinduced rheumatism. He tried physicians and remedies in vain. He was obliged to take morphine to induce sleep; his trouble was so great. Reading your advertisement in the "Christian at Work," he was prevailed upon by one of his daughters to try it. Three bottles effected a cure, and now he is an enthusiast for "Hop Bitters." He is one of the oldest residents in the locality named; and known as a gentleman of unusual probity.

HENRY TOTTEN,

I have been using your Hop Bitters and find them what you recommend them to be for kidney disease, (viz.: superior to all others.)

VERTIGO, DIZZINESS AND BLINDNESS.

OFFICE UTICA MORNING HERALD,
UTICA, Feb 18, 1882.

I have been troubled with vertigo since last July, and have suffered greatly every night after any considerable exertion, from dizziness and blindness. I have tried two bottles of Hop Bitters, and since then have been entirely relieved.

Respectfully Yours,
J. J. FLANNIGAN.

Hop Bitters Co. June 15, 1881.

I have been suffering five years past with neuralgia, liver complaint, dyspepsia and kidney complaint, and I have doctored with fourteen different doctors who did me no good. At last I tried Hop Bitters, and after I used a few bottles I received a great benefit from them, and if I had used Hop Bitters regularly I would have been well before. I know them to be the best medicine in the world for nervous diseases of all kinds.

JAMES COUNTS,
Beelington, Barber County, W. Va.

WICKED FOR CLERGYMEN.

"I believe it to be all wrong and even wicked for clergymen or other public men to be led into giving testimonials to quack doctors or patent medicines, but when a really meritorious article composed of valuable remedies known to all, and that all physicians use and trust in daily, we should freely commend it. I therefore cheerfully and heartily commend Hop Bitters for the good they have done me and my friends, firmly believing they have no equal for family use. I will not be without them.

REV. B. R.——, Washington, D. C.

A good Baptist clergyman of Bergen, N. Y., a strong temperance man, suffered with kidney trouble, neuralgia and dizziness almost to blindness, over two years after he was advised that Hop Bitters would cure him, because he was afraid of and prejudiced against the word "bitters." Since his cure he says none need fear but trust in Hop Bitters.

My wife and daughter were made healthy by the use of Hop Bitters and I recommend them to my people.—Methodist Clergyman, Mexico, N. Y.

I had severe attacks of Gravel and Kidney trouble; was unable to get any medicine or doctor to cure me until I used Hop Bitters, and they cured me in a short time.—A distinguished lawyer and temperance orator of Wayne County, N. Y.

UNION HALL.

Descending, now we find ourselves on the main floor of the edifice and in the public hall, which is the crowning feature of this building. The hall is 53 feet in length by 67 feet in width and 24½ feet in height from the floor to the ceiling. Around three sides of the hall extends a gallery which is supported by pillars running from the floor to gallery front and still upward to the ceiling. The wood work is ash, relieved ... buildings, the largest of which is situated on the northeast corner of the maine building and is used as a hospital. The main building, which is three stories high, is connected on each floor with the side buildings by means of covered passageway or bridges.

Shortly after half-past two o'clock, says the Herald, Dr. George Swift, the resident physician of the asylum, who occupies a room on the ground floor of the hospital building, was awakened by a shout outside his window, followed by the sound of breaking glass. He sprang from his bed, rushed to the window and found an excited man standing without. This man, who had dashed his fist through one of the window panes, shouted to him that the asylum was on fire. Dr. Swift threw up the window, put out his head, and, on glancing to the left, saw smoke and flame issuing from a second story window in the northeastern wing of the main building. He begged the man to hasten to engine company No. 39, at Third avenue and East Sixty-seventh street, and as the man ran off at full speed, Dr. Swift hurried across the bridge leading from the hospital to the main building to awaken Sister Superioress Irene, who is in charge of the asylum.

BRAVE SISTERS OF CHARITY.

The northeast wing in which the fire had broken out contains three nursery wards in which are about one hundred and eighty children, ranging in age from a few months to four years old. These children were under the charge of Sisters, novices and a few poor mothers, who nurse their own babes as well as foundlings. At the northern extremity of each floor is a large lavatory and around a radiator in the lavatory on the second floor the fire had originated. The radiator had become overheated and had set fire to the woodwork. As soon as Sister Irene had been notified of the fire by Dr. Swift, she hastened to the second and third floor wards, at the same time summoning forty-five Sisters and novices to her assistance.

The Sisters and novices when warned of the danger behaved, without exception, with the utmost coolness. The doors of the lavatories were closed, and thus no smoke or flame escaped into the nurseries. Sister Irene first directed that the mothers who were in the wards should make their escape into the hospital by way of the covered passageways on each floor. She and the Sisters and novices then set to work to remove about one hundred and seventy children who were in the three wards and most of whom were still fast asleep. The Sisters calmly but quietly gathered up the little ones in their blankets and, without any noise or confusion, bore them across the bridges into the hospital building. As soon as a Sister had carried a child to a place of safety she returned to the main building for another one. In the meantime the fire was gaining headway and occasionally the crackling of flames could be heard by the Sisters as they bore their little charges across the bridge to safety. Still they worked on calmly, coolly and rapidly, without the slightest indication of confusion.

A few seconds after the removal of the children had been begun, however, the clanging of bells and the rush of wheels was heard as engine company No. 39 came dashing up to the asylum at full speed. There was a loud noise of a window on the lower floor being crashed in, a sound of heavy feet on the stairs and the next instant the firemen were fighting furiously with the flames, which had by this time broken through to the third floor lavatory and were eating their way through the roof. Fifteen minutes later, after all the children had been removed to the hospital building, the firemen had extinguished the fire, which they had succeeded in confining to the second and third floor lavatories.

HOW THE CHILDREN VIEWED IT.

By this time the noise and bustle consequent upon their removal from the main to the hospital building had awakened a number of the children. During the transit most of them had slept as peacefully in the Sisters' arms as if they were still reposing in their cots, and those who did partially awake had no realization, owing to the calm demeanor of the Sisters, of any danger being near. Now, however, in the hospital building the awakening became general. Some of the younger ones after staring sleepily about them for a few minutes, arrived at the conclusion that they were hungry, and, owing to the circumstances of the case, food not being forthcoming with due promptitude, proceeded to enter vociferous objections. Others of the younger ones were indignant at being disturbed in their rest, and after sundry angry screams and grimaces, composed themselves to sleep again. Among the older of the children, however, but one opinion seemed to prevail. That was the huge fun of the whole thing.

To them this work of the good Sisters in bundling them out of bed, blankets and all in the middle of the night and carrying them off to the other building, where they woke, lost in wonder as to where they were, appeared a proceeding of a surpassingly funny nature. Informed that there was a "big fire" in the building which they had just left, they were fairly overwhelmed with interest. Could not they go and see it? Would not the Sisters crown all their other goodness to the little ones by letting them see a fire—a thing of which they had heard in stories told by Sister Louisa, Hortense or Therese, but which they had never yet seen. Then, the flames having been put out, when firemen and policemen came trooping into the hospital building to make sure that all the little ones were quite safe, the excitement and interest among the older children grew to fever heat.

Rebelling for the moment all control, they arose, some with and some without their blankets and gathered in little groups around the policemen and firemen. Appeals to be taken to see the fire, to be let play with "that club," to be given "that shining button," went on all sides in shrill, piping voices, while a corpulent baby at the far end of the apartment, who seemed to think himself neglected amid all this confusion, gave expression to his annoyance at the hubbub in soul-stirring shouts. Finally order was restored, after [illegible] had retired [illegible] wards from which they had been taken, were soon fast asleep again.

IN NICK OF TIME.

"When, at twenty minutes to three o'clock, a citizen came rushing round to the engine house crying that the Foundling Asylum was on fire my heart flew into my mouth," said Captain Perley, of Engine Company No. 39, to a Herald reporter. "I was not so much afraid of what the flames might do as I was of the smoke. I don't think that we ever went faster to a fire than we did to this one. When we turned into Sixty-ninth street we saw the flames issuing from both the second and third story windows. We broke in a window on the lower floor and ran up a line of hose. We soon had the fire under control, although it was quite a dangerous one. We just caught it in the nick of time. If it had gained a little more headway we should have had a good deal of trouble with it.

As soon as I dashed into the wards adjoining the lavatories I found the Sisters carrying out the little ones in their arms. Sister Irene was superintending the operations, and all the Sisters were just as cool as they could possibly be. Sharp was the word, but no confusion. The children actually did not know that anything was wrong until long after they had all been taken to the hospital building. After that there was lots of fun among the young ones."

CAPTAIN GUNNER IN GREAT DEMAND.

Captain Gunner, of the East Fifty-ninth street police station, who, followed by a score of officers, reached the asylum soon after the firemen, spoke in the strongest terms of the bravery and coolness displayed by the Sisters in the removal of the children. He had never, in any instance, seen women act with such calmness and presence of mind. The Captain was hugely delighted with the naivete of certain of the questions and remarks addressed to him by some of the elder children in the hospital after the fire. The Captain, his club and his buttons had been in great demand.

Sister Superior Irene said that the Sisters had explicit instructions as to what to do in an emergency of this kind. They had carefully followed out these instructions and all had been well. None of the children knew what had really happened until the danger was all over. The number of children removed to the hospital building was over one hundred and seventy, a... the Press says the Government has some twenty cases made out in which they ... tained at least $100 each. In the case of Marshall Grant it is charged that he paid the one-half of his pension amounting to $... It is also said that a client who received check at Dixmont for $1,200 pension money was followed by Friend and Benjamin who demanded $300 a piece but accepted $100 a piece. On Friday last a Deputy U. S. Marshal went to Etna and Carmel and arrested Benjamin but did not find Friend. Dr. Benjamin has employed H. D. Hadlock, of Portland, and John Benson, of Newport, as counsel, and protests that he is wrongfully accused. His trial was assigned for to-day. He is a prominent and well-known physician of Carmel. John C. Friend has also for years been a prominent and influential citizen of his town, and his friends declare the reports against him exaggerated and unjust. The indictment of two men so well known has caused quite a ripple of excitement throughout the neighboring circuit towns, and the developments will be watched with interest.

THE ROLLER SKATING RINK.

Successful Opening at Norombega Hall Last Evening.

The Bangor Roller Skating Rink was opened last evening in Norombega Hall most auspiciously. The attendance was very large and great interest was manifested by all present. Roller skating promises to become as popular in Bangor as in other cities of New England.

The Bangor Band was on the stage and discoursed selections at intervals during ... appears near the centre of the visible hemisphere will it be seen to the greatest advantage.

These spots and some large ones which were seen about the 1st of April, and which, if they are yet in existence, must now be upon the side of the sun which is turned away from us, suggest the interesting question whether sun spots re-appear at intervals at the same places on the solar globe. The location of the spots now visible closely resembles that of some of the great spots of last year and it is suspected that several of the spots of 1882 may have re-appeared in the same places after having once vanished. Owing to the lack of permanent landmarks, it is exceedingly difficult to determine whether there really are places on the sun's surface where spots appear with special frequency. If it can be shown that such places exist, very important changes must be made in the present theories of the constitution of the sun, and we may be brought back to something resembling William Herschel's conception of a sun with a solid nucleus comprising a very large portion of its bulk and surrounded by a luminous atmosphere, through which holes are made by the eruption of enormous volcanoes or by other forms of eruptive force. There are the weightiest reasons for believing that the sun cannot possibly have such a nucleus.

If the present activity of the sun continues for a month longer the astronomers who have gone to the middle of the Southern Pacific Ocean to observe the total solar eclipse on May 6th, will probably be witnesses of a magnificent spectacle. When great sun spots are most numerous the mysterious envelopes surrounding the sun, which come into view during a total eclipse appear to the best advantage, present the most imposing and curious forms, and extend to the greatest distances. In case the sun happens to be greatly disturbed about the 6th of May these astronomers may have an opportunity to make most interesting and important additions to our knowledge of the great ruler and center of the solar system.

The opportunity to study sun spots like those now visible will become less and less frequent from this time until nine or ten years hence, when another maximum point of solar activity will be reached.

PETITION FOR A GRANT OF LAND, IN 1784

The following petition from the plantation of Wheelerborough, (now Hampden), copied from the records of Massachusetts, was procured and forwarded by Dr. J. F. Pratt, of Chelsea, Mass. E. F. D.

To his Excellency John Hancock, Esq., Governor and Commander-in-chief of Massachusetts, the Honorable the Senate and the Honorable the House of Representatives in General Court assembled.

Whereas the Inhabitants of the Plantation called Wheelerborough, on the West side of Penobscot River, in this Commonwealth, did, in June, 1777, present their Petition to the House of Representatives then sitting, Praying that they might have a Grant of all the land from the upper or Northermost Line of Frankfort Township to the head of the tide, and six miles back from the River. And exhibited a Plan of the same, which we expect is in Boston to be produced when called for, which Petition was committed to Mr. Stephen Sewall, Mr. Niles and Mr. Dix. But the troubles brought on by the late War has stopped all further procedure hitherto. But as we are now (thro' the unmeasurable Goodness of Divine Providence) extricated from those embarrassments and find our territory emerged up to a new and much more happy Condition, as we understand it to invest each proper and rightful Citizen with a part of the Regal Government, which makes it the Interest and Duty of every one [illegible] as a Part of the Publick [illegible] as necessary as ex[illegible] made of [illegible] ought to be appropriated to the Discharge of the Public Debts. This Idea naturally abridges our Desires as well as our Expectations, with regard to the extent of the Lands we Petitioned for when under Regal Government, and leads us to an Inspection into the local Limits of all former claims, as all extravagant or unbounded Demands is an Imposition on the Publick and Injures every Citizen in Degree that is not Sharer in the Fraud. This naturally introduces some observations on what is generally called the Waldo Claims, which, tho' it does not appear to be our present business to point out where that Grant ought to stop.

We find it our Indispensible duty to say whereto it ought not to extend. We being furnished with true copies of all ancient Grants, Deeds, etc., by which every claim originated and by which alone they must, we think, be Supported and Defended, as by them they are located and circumscribed, on which we with due submission cannot but observe, that there must be great Impropriety at least in admitting a claim to extend to our Plantation that has been extended so far beyond its original and proper Bounds already. And as our intent is to Purchase whatever may be necessary (for making our Plantation Independent of any Proprietary Incumbrance) beyond or more than what your Excellency and Honours shall in your Wisdom see cause to assign us. We think we have good right to and Pray that we may have the Preference in the Purchase of such Land. And your Petitioners as in duty bound shall ever Pray.

Dated at Wheelersborough, the 2d of April, A. D. 1784.

For and in behalf of the Plantation of Wheelerborough.

THOMAS HOWARD,

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

The Portland Cadets have accepted an invitation from the Lewiston Zouaves to attend a reception to be given by the latter company May 25th.

Aroostook.

A Presque Isle man is jailed at Houlton, because he refused to pay a debt of $11. He has already passed the winter there and declares he shall also put in the summer in the cool retreat.

Cumberland.

Dr. A. P. Dudley, formerly of this State, who has lately been connected with the Women's Hospital, New York, has received a very flattering offer from Dr. Scott, of the Women's Hospital of California, which will ultimately result in Dr. Dudley being the surgeon-in-chief of that hospital, and has accepted and gone to his new post of duty.

Washington.

We understand that parties interested in the Calais Light Infantry are endeavoring to have that company and the Frontier Guards of Eastport formed into a battery of heavy artillery. The government will supply heavy guns and erect a battery if necessary, upon application of the Governor of a State bordering upon the sea coast. Eastport can provide a first class battery at a small expense.—Sentinel.

The Eastport Sentinel says the sardine factories have had an unusually good run of fish during the past week for this season of the year. Such a run of fish was not expected by the fishermen and many of the weirs had not been repaired or rebuilt, as they have to be every spring, but work on them is being rapidly pushed forward now. There seems to be a scarcity of girls to work in the factories this spring, some of the factories having only ball packers enough. Good packers make good wages at this business.

York.

Lullie Hutchings, of Kittery, an old offender, was arrested in Portsmouth, Friday, charged with larceny, on Wednesday afternoon, of about $50, from the family of Willard D. Tripp, of Taunton, Mass. She confessed to the crime and $19 30 were found on her person.

An fire at Biddeford, near the Eastern depot, with house, ell and barn, owned by Joseph Smith, of Dayton, and occupied by W. H. Hanson and Gilbert Dudley, was burned just before twelve o'clock, Friday night. The house was valued at $3,000, on which was an insurance of $1,500. Mr. Hanson had no insurance on his furniture; Mr. Dudley had an insurance of $300.

Some one is raiding on the poultry in Kittery. It is stated that a resident there lost, a few nights ago, one hundred hens, twelve of which were setting. They took one hen with her eggs, she having been set the night before.

Mr. Jesse Wingate, formerly a resident and trader of Saco, now a resident of Buxton, recently submitted himself to an operation for destruction of a chronic abscess which has for over two years been burrowing beneath the chest muscles, breast bone, etc. He and his physician have contemplated the operation for nearly a year but have been waiting and hoping that the trouble was superficial and would eventually cease. As it did not progress satisfactorily, on April 11th, an incision was made which revealed more serious trouble than had been entertained. It was burrowing widely beneath the muscles. The breast bone was slowly being destroyed, and behind this and within the walls of the chest a large abscess cavity was found connecting with the superficial ones. The abscess sore and dead bone was thoroughly removed and the wound is fast healing. A permanent cure is expected.

RELIABLE TESTIMONY.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Sept. 0, 1882.

Hop Bitters Co.

I am 74 years old, have lived 34 years in Philadelphia, and well known among Germans. I have been troubled 12 years with a white swelling on my right foot, and getting worse every year, and very painful, and breaking out in hot weather. I consulted several doctors and they told me it was incurable, and that I would have to take it with me to the grave. Some time ago I lost my appetite, was costive, had headache, and fever, in fact was very sick. I saw in the German Democrat that Hop Bitters was what I needed. I got a bottle, took it one week and was as well as ever, and to my greatest surprise right from the first, my swelling went down gradually and I taking another bottle got entirely well of it. The wife of my neighbor had two such swellings on her legs and three bottles cured her. I think this is a great triumph for your bitters.

JOHN STOLL,

No. 4 Young's Alley, above Willow St.

STIPPSHILL, IND., Nov. 13, 1881.

DEAR SIRS—I have read so much about Hop Bitters and always being afflicted with neuralgia, weakness, diseased stomach, never having much health I tried a couple bottles; it has strengthened and helped me more than any medicine or doctor. I am now on my third bottle and am thankful that it has helped me. I will advise all that are afflicted to give it a trial.

LUCY VAIL.

BEAT THE WORLD.

ROCKVILLE, CONN., March 6, 1882.

Hop Bitters Co.

I have been taking your Hop Bitters for several weeks, and they beat the world.

L. S. LEWIS, Lewis' axle machine.

LEETONIA, PA., April 14, 1882.

Hop Bitters Co.

I have not been well for three years, tried almost every kind of patent medicines and no less than seven doctors, one of Elmira, N. Y., none have done me any good. I finally tried your Hop Bitters and found them just the thing. I have praised them so highly there is a great number here who use them with great benefit and satisfaction.

Very Respectfully yours, R. HUNT.

GENTLEMEN—The "Hop Bitters" meet with large sales and give general satisfaction, one case in particular you should know of. Mr. John B. Greene, 728 Spring Garden St., Phila., Pa., has been suffering from kidney affection, which superinduced rheumatism. He tried physicians and remedies in vain. He was obliged to take morphine to induce sleep, his trouble was so great. Reading your advertisement in the "Christian at Work," he was prevailed upon by one of his daughters to try it. Three bottles effected a cure, and now he is an enthusiast for "Hop Bitters." He is one of the oldest residents in the locality named, and known as a gentleman of unusual probity.

HENRY TOTTEN,

672 North 10th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

OFFICE JELLOWAY MU. A. ASSOCIATION, JELLOWAY, O., Mar. 18, '82.

Hop Bitters Manufacturing Co.

I have been using your Hop Bitters and find them what you recommend them to be for kidney disease, (viz., superior to all others.)

J. L. HILDEBRAND.

VERTIGO, DIZZINESS AND BLINDNESS.

OFFICE UTICA MORNING HERALD, UTICA, Feb. 18, 1882.

I have been troubled with vertigo since last July, and have suffered greatly every night after any considerable exertion, from dizziness and blindness. I have tried two bottles of Hop Bitters, and since then have been entirely relieved.

Respectfully Yours, J. J. FLANNIGAN.

Hop Bitters Co. June 15, 1881.

I have been suffering five years past with neuralgia, liver complaint, dyspepsia and kidney complaint, and I have doctored with fourteen different doctors who did me no good. At last I tried Hop Bitters, and after I used a few bottles I received a great benefit from them, and if I had used Hop Bitters regularly I would have been well before. I know them to be the best medicine in the world for nervous diseases of all kinds.

JAMES COONTS,

Beelington, Barber County, W. Va.

WICKED FOR CLERGYMEN.

"I believe it to be all wrong and even wicked for clergymen or other public men to be led into giving testimonials to quack doctors or patent medicines, but when a really meritorious article composed of valuable remedies known to all, and that all physicians use and trust in daily, we should freely commend it. I therefore cheerfully and heartily commend Hop Bitters for the good they have done me and my friends, firmly believing they have no equal for family use. I will not be without them.

REV. B. R.——, Washington, D. C.

A good Baptist clergyman of Bergen, N. Y., a strong temperance man, suffered with kidney trouble, neuralgia and dizziness almost to blindness, over two years after he was advised that Hop Bitters would cure him, because he was afraid of and prejudiced against the word "bitters." Since his cure he says none need fear, but trust in Hop Bitters.

My wife and daughter were made healthy by the use of Hop Bitters and I recommend them to my people.—Methodist Clergyman, Mexico, N. Y.

I had severe attacks of Gravel and Kidney trouble; was unable to get any medicine or doctor to cure me until I used Hop Bitters, and they cured me in a short time.—A distinguished lawyer and temperance orator of Wayne County, N. Y.

[illegible] buildings, the largest of which is situated on the northeast corner of the maine building and is used as a hospital. The main building, which is three stories high, is connected on each floor with the side buildings by means of covered passageway or bridges.

Shortly after half-past two o'clock, says the Herald, Dr. George Swift, the resident physician of the asylum, who occupies a room on the ground floor of the hospital building, was awakened by a shout outside his window, followed by the sound of breaking glass. He sprang from his bed, rushed to the window and found an excited man standing without. This man, who had dashed his fist through one of the window panes, shouted to him that the asylum was on fire. Dr. Swift threw up the window, put out his head, and, on glancing to the left, saw smoke and flame issuing from a second story window in the northeastern wing of the main building. He begged the man to hasten to engine company No. 39, at Third avenue and East Sixty-seventh street, and as the man ran off at full speed, Dr. Swift hurried across the bridge leading from the hospital to the main building to awaken Sister Superioress Irene, who is in charge of the asylum.

BRAVE SISTERS OF CHARITY.

The northeast wing in which the fire had broken out contains three nursery wards in which are about one hundred and eighty children, ranging in age from a few months to four years old. These children were under the charge of Sisters, novices and a few poor mothers, who nurse their own babes as well as foundlings. At the northern extremity of each floor is a large lavatory, and around a radiator in the lavatory on the second floor the fire had originated. The radiator had become overheated and had set fire to the woodwork. As soon as Sister Irene had been notified of the fire by Dr. Swift, she hastened to the second and third floor wards, at the same time summoning forty-five Sisters and novices to her assistance.

The sisters and novices when warned of the danger behaved, without exception, with the utmost coolness. The doors of the lavatories were closed, and thus no smoke or flame escaped into the nurseries. Sister Irene first directed that the mothers who were in the wards should make their escape into the hospital by way of the covered passageways on each floor. She and the Sisters and novices then set to work to remove about one hundred and seventy children who were in the three wards and most of whom were still fast asleep. The Sisters calmly but quietly gathered up the little ones in their blankets and, without any noise or confusion, bore them across the bridges into the Hospital building. As soon as a Sister had carried a child to a place of safety she returned to the main building for another one. In the meantime the fire was gaining headway and occasionally the crackling of flames could be heard by the Sisters as they bore their little charges across the bridge to safety. Still they worked on calmly, coolly and rapidly, without the slightest indication of confusion.

A few seconds after the removal of the children had been begun, however, the clanging of bells and the rush of wheels was heard, an engine company No. 39 came dashing up to the asylum at full speed. There was a loud noise of a window on the lower floor being crushed in, a sound of heavy feet on the stairs and the next instant the firemen were fighting furiously with the flames, which had by this time broken through to the third floor lavatory and were eating their way through the roof. Fifteen minutes later, after all the children had been removed to the hospital building, the firemen had extinguished the fire, which they had succeeded in confining to the second and third floor lavatories.

HOW THE CHILDREN VIEWED IT.

By this time the noise and bustle consequent upon their removal from the main to the hospital building had awakened a number of the children. During the transit most of them had slept as peacefully in the Sisters' arms as if they were still reposing in their cots, and those who did partially awake had no realization, owing to the calm demeanor of the Sisters, of any danger being near. Now, however, in the hospital building the awakening became general. Some of the younger ones after staring sleepily about them for a few minutes, arrived at the conclusion that they were hungry, and, owing to the circumstances of the case, food not being forthcoming with due promptitude, proceeded to enter vociferous objections. Others of the younger ones were indignant at being disturbed in their rest, and after sundry angry screams and grimaces, composed themselves to sleep again. Among the older of the children, however, but one opinion seemed to prevail. That was the huge fun of the whole thing.

To them this work of the good Sisters in bundling them out of bed, blankets and all, in the middle of the night and carrying them off to the other building, where they woke, lost in wonder as to where they were, appeared a proceeding of a surpassingly funny nature. Informed that there was a "big fire" in the building which they had just left, they were fairly overwhelmed with interest. Could not they go and see it? Would not the Sisters crown all their other goodness to the little ones by letting them see a fire—a thing of which they had heard in stories told by Sister Louise, Hortense or Therese, but which they had never yet seen. Then, the flames having been put out, when firemen and policemen came trooping into the hospital building to make sure that all the little ones were quite safe, the excitement and interest among the older children grew to fever heat.

Realizing for the moment all control, they arose, some with and some without their blankets, and gathered in little groups around the policemen and firemen. Appeals to be taken to see the fire, to be let play with "that club," to be given "that shining button," went on all sides in shrill, piping voices, while a corpulent baby at the far end of the apartment, who seemed to think himself neglected amid all this confusion, gave expression to his anxiety at the babel in soul-stirring [illegible]. Finally order was restored after policemen and firemen had retired.

[illegible] wards from which they had been taken, were soon fast asleep again.

IN NICK OF TIME.

"When, at twenty minutes to three o'clock, a citizen came rushing round to the engine house crying that the Foundling Asylum was on fire my heart flew into my mouth," said Captain Perley, of Engine Company No. 39, to a Herald reporter. "I was not so much afraid of what the flames might do as I was of the smoke. I don't think that we ever went faster to a fire than we did to this one. When we turned into Sixty-ninth street we saw the flames issuing from both the second and third story windows. We broke in a window on the lower floor and ran up a line of hose. We soon had the fire under control, although it was quite a dangerous one. We just caught it in the nick of time. If it had gained a little more headway we should have had a good deal of trouble with it.

As soon as I dashed into the wards adjoining the lavatories I found the Sisters carrying out the little ones in their arms. Sister Irene was superintending the operations, and all the Sisters were just as cool as they could possibly be. Sharp was the word, but no confusion. The children actually did not know that anything was wrong until long after they had all been taken to the hospital building. After that there was lots of fun among the young ones."

CAPTAIN GUNNER IN GREAT DEMAND.

Captain Gunner, of the East Fifty-ninth street police station, who, followed by a score of officers, reached the asylum soon after the firemen, spoke in the strongest terms of the bravery and coolness displayed by the Sisters in the removal of the children. He had never, in any instance, seen women act with such calmness and presence of mind. The Captain was hugely delighted with the naivete of certain of the questions and remarks addressed to him by some of the elder children in the hospital after the fire. The Captain, his club and his buttons had been in great demand.

appears near the centre of the visible hemisphere will it be seen to the greatest advantage.

These spots and some large ones which were seen about the 1st of April, and which, if they are yet in existence, must now be upon the side of the sun which is turned away from us, suggest the interesting question whether sun spots re-appear at intervals at the same places on the solar globe. The location of the spots now visible closely resembles that of some of the great spots of last year and it is suspected that several of the spots of 1882 may have re-appeared in the same places after having once vanished. Owing to the lack of permanent landmarks, it is exceedingly difficult to determine whether there really are places on the sun's surface where spots appear with special frequency. If it can be shown that such places exist, very important changes must be made in the present theories of the constitution of the sun, and we may be brought back to something resembling William Herschel's conception of a sun with a solid nucleus comprising a very large portion of its bulk, and surrounded by a luminous atmosphere, through which holes are made by the eruption of enormous volcanoes or by other forms of eruptive force. There are the weightiest reasons for believing that the sun cannot possibly have such a nucleus.

If the present activity of the sun continues for a month longer the astronomers who have gone to the middle of the Southern Pacific Ocean to observe the total solar eclipse on May 6th, will probably be witnesses of a magnificent spectacle. When great sun spots are most numerous the mysterious envelopes surrounding the sun, which come into view during a total eclipse appear to the best advantage, present the most imposing and curious forms, and extend to the greatest distances. In case the sun happens to be greatly disturbed about the 6th of May these astronomers may have an opportunity to make most interesting and important additions to our knowledge of the great ruler and center of the solar system.

The opportunity to study sun spots like those now visible will become less and less frequent from this time until nine or ten years hence, when another maximum point of solar activity will be reached.

PETITION FOR A GRANT OF LAND, IN 1784.

The following petition from the plantation of Wheelerborough, (now Hampden), copied from the records of Massachusetts, was procured and forwarded by Dr. J. F. Pratt, of Chelsea, Mass. E. F. D.

To his Excellency John Hancock, Esq., Governor and Commander-in-chief of Massachusetts, the Honorable the Senate and the Honorable the House of Representatives in General Court assembled.

Whereas, the inhabitants of the Plantation called Wheelerborough, on the West side of Penobscot River, in this Commonwealth, did, in June, 1777, present their Petition to the House of Representatives then sitting, Praying that they might have a Grant of all the land from the upper or Northernmost Line of Frankfort Township to the head of the tide, and six miles back from the River. And exhibited a Plan of the same, which we expect is in Boston to be produced when called for, which Petition was committed to Mr. Stephen Sewall, Mr. Niles and Mr. Dix. But the troubles brought on by the late War has stopped all further procedure hitherto. But as we are now (thro' the unmeasurable Goodness of Divine Providence) extricated from those embarrassments and find our territory emerged up to a new and much more happy [illegible], as we understand it to invest each proper and rightful Citizen with a part of the Royal Government [illegible] the Interest and Duty [illegible] [illegible] a Part of the National [illegible] necessary [illegible] ought to be appropriated to the Discharge of the Public Debts. This Idea naturally abridges our Desires as well as our Expectations, with regard to the extent of the Lands we Petitioned for when under Regal Government, and leads us to an Inspection into the local Limits of all former claims, as all extravagant or unbounded Demands is an Imposition on the Publick and Injures every Citizen in Degree that is not Sharer in the Fraud. This naturally introduces some observations on what is generally called the Waldo Claims, which, tho' it does not appear to be our present business to point out where that Grant ought to stop.

We find it our Indispensible duty to say where it ought not to extend. We being furnished with true copies of all ancient Grants, Deeds, etc., by which every claim originated and by which alone they must, we think, be Supported and Defended, as by them they are located and circumscribed, on which we with due submission cannot but observe, that there must be great Impropriety at least in admitting a claim to extend to our Plantation that has been extended so far beyond its original and proper Bounds already. And as our intent is to Purchase whatever may be necessary (for making our Plantation Independent of any Proprietary Incumbrance) beyond or more than what your Excellency and Honours shall in your Wisdom see cause to assign us. We think we have good right to and Pray that we may have the Preference in the Purchase of such Land. And your Petitioners as in duty bound shall ever Pray.

Dated at Wheelersborough, the 2d of April, A. D. 1784.

For and in behalf of the Plantation of Wheelerborough,

THOMAS HOWARD,
ROB'T TREAT,
NATHANIEL MYRICK,
ANDREW GRANT (?),
EPHRAIM GRANT,

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

The Portland Cadets have accepted an invitation from the Lewiston Zouaves to attend a reception to be given by the latter company May 25th.

Aroostook.

A Presque Isle man is jailed at Houlton, because he refused to pay a debt of $11. He has already passed the winter there and declares he shall also put in the summer in the cool retreat.

Cumberland.

Dr. A. P. Dudley, formerly of this State, who has lately been connected with the Women's Hospital, New York, has received a very flattering offer from Dr. Scott, of the Women's Hospital of California, which will ultimately result in Dr. Dudley being the surgeon-in-chief of that hospital, and has accepted and gone to his new post of duty.

Washington.

We understand that parties interested in the Calais Light Infantry are endeavoring to have that company and the Frontier Guards of Eastport formed in to a battery of heavy artillery. The government will supply heavy guns and erect a battery if necessary, upon application of the Governor of a State bordering upon the sea coast. Eastport can provide a first class battery at a small expense.—Sentinel.

The Eastport Sentinel says the sardine factories have had an unusually good run of fish during the past week, for this season of the year. Such a run of fish was not expected by the fishermen and many of the weirs had not been repaired or rebuilt, as they have to be every spring, but work on them is being rapidly pushed forward now. There seems to be a scarcity of girls to work in the factories this spring, some of the factories having only half packers enough. Good packers make good wages at this business.

York.

Lullie Hutchings, of Kittery, an old offender, was arrested in Portsmouth, Friday, charged with larceny, on Wednesday afternoon, of about $60, from the family of Willard D. Tripp, of Taunton, Mass. She confessed to the crime and $19 30 were found on her person.

An fire at Biddeford, near the Eastern depot, with house, ell and barn, owned by Joseph Smith, of Dayton, and occupied by W. H. Hanson and Gilbert Dudley, was burned just before twelve o'clock, Friday night. The house was valued at $3,000, on which was an insurance of $1,500. Mr. Hanson had no insurance on his furniture, Mr. Dudley had an insurance of $300.

Some one is raiding on the poultry in Kittery. It is stated that a resident there lost, a few nights ago, one hundred hens, twelve of which were setting. They took one hen with her eggs, she having been set the night before.

Mr. Jesse Wingate, formerly a resident and trader of Saco, now a resident of Buxton, recently submitted himself to an operation for destruction of a chronic abscess which has for over two years been burrowing beneath the chest muscles, breast bone, etc. He and his physician have contemplated the operation for nearly a year but have been waiting and hoping that the trouble was superficial and would eventually cease. As it did not progress satisfactorily, on April 11th, an incision was made which revealed more serious trouble than had been entertained. It was burrowing widely beneath the muscles. The breast bone was slowly being destroyed, and behind this and within the walls of the chest a large abscess cavity was found connecting with the superficial ones. The abscess sore and dead bone was thoroughly removed and the wound is fast healing. A permanent cure is expected.

Whig & Courier.

BOUTELLE & BURR, PROPRIETORS.

C. A. BOUTELLE, EDITOR.

All business letters should be addressed to Boutelle & Burr, and communications intended for publication should be addressed: "Editor of Whig and Courier."

TUESDAY, MAY 1, 1883.

The statement that Senator Hampton, of South Carolina, will resign before his term expires is again denied by the Charleston News.

The editorial which we reprint to-day from the New Haven Palladium on "The Booms and the Timber" is from the pen of Mr. Alfred E. Meigs, formerly on the staff of this paper.

The Pacific Bank affairs, says the Boston Journal, are dragging their slow length along, and it is not probable that the creditors will ever receive ten cents on a dollar. The value of some of the collaterals have depreciated from their face value about ninety-five per cent.

The Whitehall (N. Y.) Times, has the exclusive yet thrilling news that the mention of Mr. Tilden's name as a Presidential candidate "even now sends a chill of horror across the Republican leaders and causes them to fall into paroxysms of frenzy"

Mrs. Helen Hunt Jackson, "H. H.," who has been appointed an Agent of the Interior Department in connection with the affairs of the Mission Indians of California, is warmly indorsed by the journals of the West, though she is the first woman ever intrusted by the General Government with such a position. She has been interested in the Indian question for years.

The Tribune says: The Geddes boom for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Ohio has burst prematurely. The snag it struck is the "crusade cry." As the Democrats know that they have not the slightest chance of carrying the State without the assistance of the liquor interest, the nomination of a man who was concerned in the temperance crusades of a few years ago would be a confession of defeat from the start. So Judge Geddes, will probably have to step aside and let Hoadley and Ward come to the front. No candidate for a nomination ever entered the ring with his heels higher in the air, ran faster and dropped out quicker than Mr. Geddes has.

The rehabilitation of base ball in public favor since the beginning of the current season as the great American game has been very notable, and that this should have been possible after the disrepute into which the game had fallen a few years ago shows that it has a strong hold upon the popular affection. In the meanwhile, the popularity of cricket has not increased, if it has not actually declined, and there is evidently little or no chance for its supplanting its less distinguished but more lively rival. The cultivation and enjoyment of cricket requires a degree of leisure which the average American either cannot command or is not willing to devote to this particular pursuit. Base ball may not be so scientific as the English game, but it consumes less time, and is in the opinion of the majority a good deal better fun.

A vivid impression of the sudden fury of the Southern cyclone is conveyed by this brief statement of Mr. B. F. Jones, of Beauregard, Miss., who, the moment he saw the danger coming, called his wife and little boy into the yard and made them lie flat on the ground and grasp some small shrubs which stood within reach. "I put one arm about my wife," says Mr. Jones, "while with the other I clasped a small tree, and made my son lie close up to me, and then I said to them, 'Hold on, hold on, for God's sake! It is for life!' and then the wind came. There was a whirl and a roar. I was shaken, and heard the crash of my falling house. An instant and it was over. I still held my wife in my arms, but she was insensible, and my boy was still nestling close up to me, but bruised and bleeding." All three escaped without serious injury, thanks to Mr. Jones' presence of mind and the prompt obedience of his wife and child.

Mayor Edson has addressed an open letter to the citizens of New York declaring that he deems it his duty to state to them that the corrupt elements in the Legislature will defeat an indispensable measure for the supplying of pure water to the city unless they remonstrate with their Representatives in a way to be effective. Mayor Edson, it is needless to say, is a Democrat, and is not free from the suspicion that he received his office at the price of subservience to Mr. John Kelly in the matter of patronage. With this party affiliation and with this political reputation, he feels bound to rebuke the corruption of the Democratic Legislature elected particularly to represent purity and reform, which cannot permit a measure for the introduction of pure water into the city to pass without it pays the shameful tribute of bribery. This is a significant fact for those who accepted the ready promise of the Democratic party last year, and sought for reform in politics by its instrumentality. The result in Pennsylvania has not been much better, if we may believe the complaints of independent journals like the Philadelphia Times, and the "reform" Legislatures are rapidly acquiring the reputation of being the most scandalous that have been known for years.

The proverb that "few in public office die and none resign" failed of fulfilment in the case of General Raum, Commissioner of Internal Revenue. It is seldom that a public officer resigns his place with more flattering testimonials to his efficiency. The President said last night to a friend, after having reluctantly consented to accept the resignation: "If all bureaus of the government were administered with the same knowledge, efficiency, integrity and fidelity which has characterized the administration of General Raum, it would be a pleasure to be President." The attempt to make a political sensation out of the retirement of General Raum, or to assume from it either that the personal and political relations between Senator Logan and the President are disturbed, or that General Raum is not on cordial terms with Secretary Folger, will not succeed. General Raum says that his reasons for retiring are purely of a personal character. He has a large family and finds that the salary of the Government position is inadequate to his necessities, while the duties of the office are of such a character as preclude him from engaging in private business. During his nearly seven years' administration of the Internal Revenue Bureau he has collected eight hundred and fifty millions of dollars without the loss of a cent.—Wash. Cor. Boston Journal.

THE BOOMS AND THE TIMBER.

[New Haven Palladium.]

To the lumberman a "boom" is a very important adjunct in the labor of getting his logs to the mill and through it to the purchaser in form of building material. "The logs are at the boom," he says and at this point he begins to see his reward for labor done and capital invested. He is a practical man and bends his energies toward the final consummation of his business venture—the sale of his lumber. Hard times may come, however, his products may not be in demand, or the "boom" break, the logs go to the sea, and after all his labor he is worse off than he would have been had he not engaged in a lumbering operation and had the "boom" known not his logs. Then alas! the lumberman.

But not to the lumberman alone belongeth the "boom." Another uses it and for a very different purpose. Not long ago there was a "boom" at Chicago into which an attempt was made to "run" some Democratic presidential timber. The makers of it were careless, or possessed poor material for constructing it, and there is danger that the floods may come, the "boom" break and that timber be carried on past the mill to the great sea of popular disagreement or indifference, and eventually be tossed upon the shore to be wasted away by the elements. Then alas! the politician.

One of the logs started for that "boom" "swung-out" at Chicago, the one hailed as "our next President" is rather a curious stick, and there are evidences of unsoundness at the heart. Indeed to the practiced eye which gauges it by Democratic professions, it is a stick hardly fit for platform plank, though there is evidently match stock in it. But it is not matches that the Democratic party needs; it is platform material and "anti-monopoly," so they swear, must be the pins to bind it together. Matches would be too light and the match stamp too conspicuous. Then alas! Senator Bayard.

There are other logs on the way to the "boom." One bearing a free trade mark must have got caught in the brush along shore or has sunk by the absorption of too much water. It is at present out of sight. This stick known as McDonald has several times "fouled" with an older piece of timber which has been "boomed" before and rejected. Now this old log, it is said, is struck with a sort of dry rot that renders it unfit for anything liable to be of service to the Democratic party; but for all that it may "bob up serenely" within the limits of the "boom," to be thrown out as not worth drawing into the mill. Both are Indiana timber and cut for a purpose which may not be realized. Then alas! Mr. Hendricks.

This, however, does not constitute more than a fraction of the presidential lumber gathering. Other "booms" have been "hung" and timber is on the way to them—at least it has been started with the breaking up of the ice and the hope that the spring political freshet, with the aid of "drivers," will bring it in. But will it? Already some of the sticks are carried ashore by the eddying currents, possibly to be overlooked and never even arrive at the "boom." There is Cleveland with Bayard caught fast on the rocks of monopoly, and whether the "boss driver" will consider it worth while to place either in the current again depends on the amount of matches or elevated railway ties they can be converted into for the benefit of the people.

Pattison was a very promising sapling, rather green to float smoothly along with the light current when the ice went out and he is somewhere along shore, bearing the owner's mark, but settled down so heavily that he may be overlooked by the "boatmen" and so finally become a "prize log" for the political corporation owning the "boom" and be auctioned off at the annual meeting to be worked into gubernatorial "dimension." Then alas! Governor Pattison.

Some other pieces of timber are still out, known as Jere Black, George H. Pendleton and General W. S. Hancock. Their whereabouts are not just yet known because they, being older growth, have by reason of their length and weight met with frequent obstacles and were no sooner set agoing by the "drivers" than they were "hung up" again. Just the same, however, they will be "boomed" if possible. Judge Black may be broken by the younger timber piling upon him while "running" some of the old falls of the political river, but he will be kept in the current if there is a splinter of sound timber to show for it. Pendleton was split in the felling which injures him. One side will do, perhaps, for small civil service "dimension," not in demand where the timber would be taken for sale, but the lumbermen hope that the other side will make enough spoils-joist to induce the purchaser to take the lot. The general is a large log, and it is feared has been too much cracked by the Sun to be worth working up into anything but pickets for Governor's Island. Then alas! these three.

There is one stick, cut in the early season, old, dry, gnarled, and a terror to the "drivers." It seems bound to reach the "boom" though the "drivers" have left it, for the present, caught upon veto rock. The probable rise of water and the power of wind will perhaps bring it in and it may be used, if worked up for anything but firewood, to refloor the Tewksbury almshouse. Then alas! the politician.

One piece was started years ago, once reached the "boom," was rejected at the mill and is still in the water. It was once a hard wood, but is now shattered to the core, and is shaky from long floating about, but as the boys have the "usufruct" who can complain? But alas! the Democratic party.

FLORENCE OIL STOVES.

Nine Points

To be Considered in Purchasing an Oil Stove.

1st—Be sure that you buy an Oil Stove that is warranted to burn without odor.

2nd—See that it can be used equally as well for heating in the winter as for cooking in the summer.

3d—See that for cooking it concentrates its entire heat on the article to be cooked, without raising the temperature of the room; thus avoiding the heat in hot summer weather.

4th—Above all things get an Oil Stove that is easily kept clean. This is the most important thing of all.

5th—Beware of all Oil Stoves having perforated wire gauze cages or boxes over the oil tank, which have to be boiled out, and which are impossible to keep clean and are fit only for out door use.

6th Do not buy a heavy, clumsy Oil Stove, for you might want to move it into another room when there is no one at hand to assist you.

7th—If you wish to use your stove in the wind, get one with the Patent Adjustable Wind Damper.

8th—Do not buy any Oil Stove without the Patent Filler, showing exactly how much oil to put in the stove without spilling the oil; also showing when the stove is empty.

9th—Examine the Florence first, and recollect that it has all the points of excellence necessary in an Oil Stove; it has been in the market nine years, thoroughly tried and tested, and pronounced the OLDEST AND BEST.

"IT'S A GOOD THING

And I Know it," were the Words of Mr. Levi Porter, the Celebrated Fashionable Cutter in the Firm of Nathan & Taylor, under the Narragansett House, Providence, R. I. —Shows what an Honest Thing will Do.

"It's a good thing; I know it's a good thing." Such were the words addressed to your reporter when he called at the fashionable establishment of Nathan & Taylor, under the Narragansett House, Providence, R. I. The speaker was Mr. Leroy Porter, head manager of the tailoring department of this large clothing house, as he was cutting his way through a mammoth pile of brocades, Scotch plaids and broadcloths.

"I felt sometimes as if there was a cannon ball resting on my stomach. I would have to get up at night, for I was so short of breath. You see in the spring—our busy season—we are at work sixteen hours per day. Have short times for meals, and at irregular hours. My stomach became very much disordered, and I was all out of health. I tried every kind of medicines. The doctors said it was a touch of dyspepsia. I could get nothing to do me permanent good until a friend recommended Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. I know it's a good medicine. It has completely cured me of stomach disorders and indigestion. It seems to be a thorough cleanser of the system from biliousness or anything of that kind. I know this for I've tried it. I'm in the best of health now, but should I ever have a dyspeptic turn again Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY would be my source of relief. Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY acts upon the digestive organs in a charming manner, regulating their action, strengthening and purifying the whole system."

Ask your druggist for it.

MAINE NEWS.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

Session at Lewiston.

LEWISTON, April 30. In the Methodist Conference to-day the Committee on Sabbath Desecration reported in favor of discouraging [illegible] of Sunday trains [illegible] and from campmeetings. After a long [illegible] the following resolve was substituted for the [illegible] resolve of the Temperance Committee:

Resolved, That the use of alcoholic [illegible] stimulants, drugs and tobacco for [illegible] gratification of the appetite is a sin against God.

The resolve [illegible] favoring the Constitutional amendment was adopted.

The committee to try the charges against Rev. D. W. Le Lacheur made a report. The charges were, first, insubordination [illegible] second first specification, advising Saml. Patterson to take a letter of dismission from the church; not [illegible] second specification, aiding [illegible] of discipline of the church [illegible]. The committee recommended [illegible] be suspended from work [illegible] this Conference. [illegible] stated his wish to withdraw. The Bishop said he could not [illegible] under charges. Mr. L. said that legally he could. The Bishop [illegible] had been settled and that it [illegible] be done.

[illegible] I shall preach the [illegible] of God. I shall preach next Sabbath [illegible] from the jurisdiction [illegible] Conference," and left the room.

An Independent Organization.

PORTLAND, April 30. The Vaughan street Independent Methodist Church was formed to-night and Rev. Mr. Lelacheur was invited to become its settled pastor. This is the minister who was suspended by the Conference at Lewiston to-day. He has accepted the call. The parish has 150 members.

Accidentally Shot.

SKOWHEGAN, April 30. While Cyril Perry of Skowhegan, was hunting yesterday, his gun was accidently discharged, the shot entering near his right lung making a very bad wound. He is still alive but his recovery is doubtful.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Debt Reduction.

WASHINGTON, April 30. It is estimated that the decrease in the public debt for April amounts to about $2,500,000. This small amount is accounted for by the fact that large sums have been paid out during the month on account of pensions. These payments amounted to about $1,000,000.

The Star Route Trial.

In the Star Route trial to-day Mr. Bliss began his argument for the Government.

A Man Shoots his Partner for a Burglar.

BOSTON, April 30. Albert H. Beals, of the firm of Beals & Perley, spice dealers of Boston, shot and killed his partner, Frickett Perley, on the Fall River steamer Bristol last night. Both of the men occupied a stateroom together, and at 1 30 Perley got out of his berth and went to the window. Beals was awakened by the rattling of the blinds and thinking some one was trying to enter the room drew his revolver and fired. The bullet entered Perley's forehead and passed out of the back of the head. He lived about an hour and a half. Beals gave himself up to the police on the arrival of the boat at Fall River.

Another Despatch.

FALL RIVER, April 30. Alfred H. Beals, Jr., is in the Central police station. He is completely unnerved by the unfortunate affair. His wife arrived from Boston this afternoon and has been with him most of the time. An inquest will probably be held Wednesday, as the men on the steamer whose evidence will be required cannot be here until then. Fickett's remains still lie at the undertaker's rooms here.

RIVER AND HARBOR PLANS.

Secretary Lincoln Approves Them and Work is Ordered.

WASHINGTON, April 30. The plans of the engineers for the works provided for in the last River and Harbor bill have been approved by Secretary Lincoln, and the works ordered in all but nine cases, in which the appropriations aggregated $318,000. The principal items of this amount are $210,000 "for the improvement and protection of the navigable channels of the Sacramento and Feather rivers," and $75,000 "for improving the Kentucky river, Kentucky, by the erection of a lock and movable dam at Beattyville, at the junction of Three Forks." The latter sum has not been expended, for the reason that the act making the appropriation conferred no authority to purchase a site for the lock and dam. Secretary Lincoln declines to authorize the expenditure of the $210,000 included in the first item, because the improvement and protection of the channels of these rivers by the erection of restraining barriers upon the Yuba, American and Bear rivers, tributaries of the Sacramento and Feather, to hold back the flow of detritus caused by hydraulic mining, would evolve the expenditure within the next eight years, of $1,500,000, with doubtful results and would at best prove but a partial remedy if hydraulic mining should continue.

The remaining seven items of the appropriation aggregate $33,000, the expenditure of which has not been ordered by the Secretary, because in each instance the amount is deemed wholly insufficient to accomplish the results desired. Work under the above appropriations has therefore been deferred to await future action by Congress. The amounts appropriated for river and harbor improvements at 186 different points will be expended by June 30, 1883, and operations at these points will be suspended at that date. Gen. Wright, Chief of Engineers, estimates that about $5,250,000 will remain unexpended June 30, 1883, and will be available to continue the work of improvement at 237 points. In the list of works which will thus be continued during the next fiscal year are improvements of the harbors at Portland, Me., Portsmouth, N. H., Newburyport, Boston, and Nantucket, Mass., Providence river, R. I., the breakwater at New Haven, Ct., the Hudson river, Buttermilk channel and Gowanus bay.

THE TEWKSBURY ALMSHOUSE.

Another Letter From Gov. Butler.

BOSTON, April 30. The Governor in acknowledging the consent of the State Board of Health to take charge of Tewksbury, has written a caustic letter in which he says that he proposes to furnish money to carry on the almshouse until the Legislature can make appropriations for its support, but he will neither furnish it or permit it to be furnished if it is to be expended by the present Superintendent. If the Legislature appropriates money for Tewksbury he will not permit any money to be drawn from the treasury if it is to be spent by the officials now in office. He calls the attention of the Board to the fact that they can appoint no officers without his consent, and as he has not consented to the appointment of the present officials, he does not propose to pay bills contracted by them. Referring to the custom of the Assistant Attorney General to sign opinions he suggests that a number of customs which have prevailed may have been distasteful to people of the State and possibly may have had something to do with the change of political sentiment.

Charles Marsh, clerk at the almshouse, was recalled. He claims his accounts have been accurately kept notwithstanding certain apparent discrepancies. In the correction of his previous testimony he stated his ledger was bought in 1882, although the first entry therein was dated July 1, 1879; has nothing to do with the record of the histstory of the inmates; that is kept by another clerk. Adjourned.

The Special Senses have been termed the "Five Gateways of Knowledge," from the fact that they receive and transmit to the brain impressions regarding surrounding objects thro' their nerves. The nose, or organ of smell, is a double-chambered cavity, lined with a mucous membrane, over which is spread numerous nerve filaments, branches of the olfactory nerves, for the reception of odiferous impressions. Catarrh soon destroys the sense of smell, causes inflammation of the membrane, rapidly becomes offensive and culminates by becoming chronic. Ely's Cream Balm cures catarrh, no matter how long it has existed. It is not a liquid or snuff. [illegible]

LOCAL MATTERS.

May Day.

The City Government will hold their regular monthly meeting this evening.

Company B, of Oldtown, will be inspected by Lieut. Howe, U. S. A., to-morrow evening.

The Brewer Savings Bank hold their annual meeting to-day at 10 A. M., at their banking room.

The East Orrington Amateurs are to give an entertainment at Town Hall, Orrington, May night.

The new schooner Hattie H. Barbour will sail to-day with ice for Baltimore. This will be her first voyage.

Senator Eugene Hale arrived at the Bangor House last evening. Hon. F. A. Pike and wife, of Calais, were also at the Bangor House last evening.

In the case of Morse vs. the Commercial, on trial in Calais, the counsel finished their arguments at about four o'clock yesterday afternoon, after which Judge Libbey charged the jury.

A concert and supper was given by Victory Council, United Fellowship, at Town Hall, Hampden, last evening. Supper was served from 6 to 8 in the Masonic dining hall and was followed by a literary and musical entertainment, Prof. Rice gave readings.

OPERA HOUSE. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bangor Opera House Company will be held at the Opera House this afternoon at three o'clock for the election of officers and transaction of any business which may be legally brought before such meeting. The annual drawing of seats will take place at the Opera House on Thursday evening next at seven o'clock.

SAD DEATH. Miss Carrie Gerry, daughter of Capt. A. F. Gerry, the well known shipping agent, died yesterday morning at her father's residence in Brewer. She was stricken suddenly, Sunday morning, with convulsions and remained unconscious much of the time until her death. She was a most estimable young lady and was well known in this city, having been employed in dry and fancy goods establishments here. Her age was about twenty years.

EAST MAINE CONFERENCE. The East Maine Conference convenes in Searsport to-morrow and the Methodist clergymen have commenced to arrive in that town in large numbers. There will be a prayer meeting held this evening, and Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock there will be a sacramental service, Bishop C. D. Foss officiating. The regular Conference business commences at 10:30 o'clock, Wednesday, Bishop Foss in the chair. The sessions will continue through the week.

THIRTY EIGHT YEARS ON MAIN STREET. In a card to the public Capt. Josiah S. Ricker, in announcing his retirement from the crockery and glassware business, recalls the fact that he has been in trade on Main street for the long period of thirty-eight years. Beginning in 1845 he was six years with J. C. White, and since then has been in the crockery business thirty-two years. This is a long service, and in view of his severe injury by being thrown from his carriage, from which he has not fully recovered he has determined to take a rest, by being less confined, and to obtain the benefit of out-door air. He cordially commends his successors to the confidence of his old patrons.

A SEVERE AFFLICTION. Mr. and Mrs. John F. Robinson will have the sympathy of many friends in the sad affliction that visited their household on Saturday in the death of their daughter, Martha, at the age of twelve years and eight months. It is supposed that she took cold at the recent juvenile exhibition, in which she participated, and although loving hands bestowed every attention and care, it terminated fatally. Those who were acquainted with the deceased speak of her as a bright and winning child, possessing a most amiable disposition which endeared her to old and young alike. The remains were taken to Lincoln for interment.

THE CIGAR MAKERS' STRIKE. Bangor, in common with many other cities, is experiencing a strike among its cigar makers. The recent tax reduction of $3 per thousand on cigars has induced the men employed at the manufactories to demand an increase in pay. The well known Exchange street manufacturer, A. Lewis, received notice from the members of his crew that they should quit work if they do not receive an advance of $2 per thousand. Mr. Lewis refused to accede to their request and accordingly all the male hands employed by him have stopped work. He says he is willing to give an advance of $1.50 per thousand on his "Blue Line" and $1 per thousand on all other kinds. Developments will be awaited with some interest.

BOWDOIN COLLEGE. During the absence of President Chamberlain the Seniors pursue the study of constitutional law under the instruction of Mr. Fisher.——Treasurer Young is spending a few weeks with his family in New York and Washington.——It is likely that a concert will be given in King's Chapel some time next month, proceeds to go toward the support of the ball nine.——Numerous skillful operations are performed by Prof. Weeks before the medical students at the weekly clinics.——Owing to the backwardness of the spring the class crews got upon the river about a week later than usual this spring.——The ball nine as it will play this season is made up as follows: Wright, '84, captain and pitcher; Knapp, '83, catcher; Winter, '83, 1st base; Torrey, '84, 2nd base; Stetson, '83, 3d base; Barton, '84, left field; Collins, '84, centre field, and Cook, '85, right field. The nine will start upon its Massachusetts trip this morning.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE COUNTY GRANGE. The Penobscot County Grange met in this city with Queen City Grange, on Saturday last. About two hundred and fifty representatives from the different Granges in this county were present forenoon and afternoon. It was the annual meeting for the choice of officers, and the most of the afternoon was occupied in choosing and installing the following officers for the ensuing year: E. H. Gregory, Master; Daniel Buswell, Overseer; A. K. Walker, Lecturer; J. G. Croxford, Steward; J. S. Bartlett, Assistant Steward; J. B. French, Chaplain; O. H. Whitney, Treasurer; Mrs. M. L. Croxford, Secretary; H. E. Lamb, Gate Keeper; Mrs. Cyrus Eddy, Pomona; Nellie Wright, Flora; Mrs. E. H. Gregory, Ceres; Mrs. A. W. Rowell, Lady Assistant Steward; Albert Hall, Chorister. C. M. Freeman installed the officers in the most satisfactory manner. The next meeting will be held in four weeks with Rural Grange, Veazie. The meeting was very fully attended, harmonious and pleasant in every way. Mr. Gregory was elected by a unanimous vote. He has served in this capacity for five years, and is deservedly much respected by the order, and makes an excellent presiding officer. Mr. Gregory was highly complimented [illegible]

ENTERPRISING PITTSFIELD.

THE NEW HALL RAPIDLY NEARING COMPLETION.

A Detailed Description of the Elegant and Costly Edifice.

The Dedication, May 15-18, to be The Grandest Event in the History of This Thriving Village.

Among the most thriving and enterprising of the villages of Maine, Pittsfield justly deserves a foremost place. It was recently the pleasure of a representative of the WHIG to make a short sojourn to this wide-awake Somerset town, and the evidence of thrift and industry was seen on every hand.

THE TOWN.

Pittsfield is located on the Maine Central Railroad and is 34 miles distant from Bangor. It has a population of about 2,000 persons, and is a live business community. The Pittsfield Pioneer Woolen Mills, owned and run by Robert Dobson & Co., furnish employment to from 130 to 150 persons, and their monthly pay-roll amounts to $4,500. This is one of the most thriving establishments in Maine and has largely helped in building up the town. The lumber mills of Dexter & McMaster also do a large business each season. The power to run all the mills, comes from the Sebasticook, a stream of considerable size and of constant flow, which rises in Moose Pond and continues down through Pittsfield, emptying into the Kennebec river at Winslow. There are several other very excellent privileges on the stream, one a short distance above and another only a short distance below the Pioneer Woolen Mills location, both of which will doubtless be utilized ere long. There are also several smaller industries which help materially the welfare of the town. Two years ago Pittsfield was visited by a disastrous fire which destroyed many blocks and seriously effected the business section of the place. Since that time the ravages of the flames have been largely counteracted and new buildings have taken the places of those destroyed. It will not be long before the burnt district will be entirely covered with structures superior to those formerly existing there. The town is adorned by several handsome private residences and the level and well kept streets permit pleasant drives. It is the centre of a fertile agricultural community and many prosperous and well to do farmers carry on operations in the vicinity. There are several churches in the village where the religious wants of the people are ministered to and the Maine Central Institute is located here, furnishing superior educational advantages to those who will avail themselves of the opportunity. The handsome brick edifice of the Institute, situated only a short distance to the south of the railroad track, is readily observed by one passing through the town in the cars. The institution is a popular academy of instruction and the average attendance is about 110 students.

EVIDENCE OF PUBLIC SPIRIT

has been manifested in many ways during the past few years by the citizens of Pittsfield. The great fire of '81 showed the importance of being prepared to fight the flames, and accordingly an efficient hand engine was purchased and a thoroughly organized, well-equipped fire department is one of the features of the place. The Maine Central Institute became in financial straits with an indebtedness of about $20,000, and there was danger that the usefulness of this excellent school of learning would be greatly impaired thereby. The people of Pittsfield then came forward and said if the friends of the institution in other portions of Maine would subscribe one-half of the amount the remaining $10,000 would be raised in Pittsfield. This proposition was successfully carried out, the citizens of Pittsfield came forward with the amount promised and the debt of the institution has been lifted. The religious societies had become somewhat involved in indebtedness, but a movement was not long since inaugurated to relieve them from financial embarrassment and the churches are now quite generally free from debt. The crowning exhibition of the public spirit of this goodly village is, however, in the rearing of an elegant edifice, to be used as a public hall, and of this enterprise we shall speak more at length.

INCEPTION OF THE HALL PROJECT.

The desirability of possessing a large and more commodious public hall than existed in the town had long been apparent and the flourishing lodges of Masons and Odd Fellows also felt the need of more eligible accommodations. Early in the spring of 1882 the project of a union hall was earnestly agitated and after much zealous labor on the part of the originators of the movement it was successfully launched. It was determined to erect a building which would be suitable for town purposes with halls for both the Masons and Odd Fellows and also a large union hall for public purposes. The town voted to give $5,000 towards the building, with the understanding that there should be reserved an office for the selectmen, an engine room and lock up and also that the large hall would be granted for town meetings. The two lodges, Meridian Lodge, No. 125, F. & A. M., and Phlentoma Lodge, No. 51, I. O. O. F., subscribed towards the stock and individual members of the two lodges also subscribed. There were also a few signers outside the membership of the two orders. It is the intention of the two lodges eventually to buy up the loose stock and own the building jointly. On the 15th of August, 1882 the Pittsfield Union Hall Company was incorporated with a capital of $20,000 and the following list of officers: President, Geo. H. Hunter; Secretary and Treasurer, O. S. Haskell; Directors, T. S. Dexter, William Dobson, W. S. Howe, W. H. Fannce and D. M. Parks.

THE EDIFICE.

Some two or three months previous to the time of the organization of the Union Hall Company ground was broken for the building and work has been continued since that time with vigor until now the consummation of many months of labor is beheld in the handsome structure nearly completed. Walter H. M[illegible]re, of Hartland, has been the architect and the building committee consists of [illegible] Dexter, O. S. Haskell and Geo. H. [illegible]. The new building fronts on [illegible] street and is located at the corner of [illegible] and Middle streets. It is of brick, [illegible] proportioned and erected [illegible] favorable, impressive [illegible] It is 70 feet in width by 60 feet in [illegible] and the walls rise to a height of 47 [illegible] the foundation on the front [illegible] the rear has a height of 52 feet. [illegible] building is surmounted with a hip [illegible] roof which rises to a deck around which [illegible] ing. The whole is [illegible] staff which [illegible] desirable height [illegible] over the windows [illegible] ing from 24 in. by 34 in. to 24 in. by 42 in. Entrance to the building is gained by climbing fine and substantial granite steps. Over the main entrance, on a granite tablet inlaid in the brick work, appears "Union Hall" in gilt letters, and in the upper story, to the right and left, are inscriptions of a similar style, one that of "Odd Fellows' Hall" and the other "Masonic Hall." The entire cost of the building has been about $30,000, exclusive of the furnishings.

THE SOCIETY HALLS.

Entering the building we find broad stairs leading to the right and left and climbing two flights we find ourselves on the upper floor of the building where the flourishing secret orders, which have been so largely instrumental in rearing this edifice, will make their abode. The story is divided into two equal parts by a partition running north and south and the western portion is to be occupied by the Odd Fellows and the eastern by the Masons. The main hall of the Odd Fellows occupies the rear of their space and is 55 feet in length by 33 feet in width with a height of 16 feet, the walls are tinted, the ceiling frescoed and the wood work of pine colored an agreeable shade. The remaining space in the I. O. O. F. department is about 33 feet by 35 feet in front of the main hall and this portion is divided off into four commodious ante-rooms finished in imitation ash and black walnut. The Masonic half of the upper story is partioned off like the I. O. O. F. portion, the hall and ante-rooms being of the same size, while the wood work is finished in similar style. The walls are tinted cream color with ceiling of blue intermingled with stars.

UNION HALL.

Descending, now we find ourselves on the main floor of the edifice and in the public hall, which is the crowning feature of this building. The hall is 63 feet in length by 67 feet in width and 24½ feet in height from the floor to the ceiling. Around three sides of the hall extends a gallery which is supported by pillars running from the floor to gallery front and still upward to the ceiling. The wood work is ash, relieved on the gallery front with ornaments of black walnut. The walls are tinted a dark cream color, while the gallery posts are painted in artistic design and the ceiling is quite elaborately frescoed. The frescoing is of panel design and a large variety of colors enter into the decorations. Old gold, lilac, ox blood, blue and cream shades are combined with good taste and make an attractive show. The central design is especially notable. The galleries hold three rows of chairs and accommodate four hundred persons. The chairs are from the manufactory of Geo. W. Merrill & Co., of this city. The regular seating capacity of the main floor of the hall is six hundred, and the settees used are the Dexter Improved Spring Settee, manufactured by H. J. Dexter, of Dover, Me. The floor is of birch and very handsomely laid. The spacious stage is a prominent feature of the hall and is finely appointed in every particular. The stage has a width of 48 feet and a depth from the footlights of 24 feet. The stage opening is 22 feet wide by 16½ feet high. The proscenium front is painted in Eastlake style and is quite ornamental. The scenic appointments embrace six full sets of scenery, a drop curtain and accessories. The drop curtain represents a view of the Grand Canal in Venice, and is very handsome. The six sets of scenery represent forest, kitchen, chamber, landscape, parlor and street, and among the set-pieces are cottages, water, balcony, vases and accompanying draperies. With the above scenery there can be presented any play that may be desired, and the appointments will compare favorably with the accommodations to be found in any theatre outside of the larger cities. C. E. Lovell, of this city, contracted to supply the scenery, and the scenic artist who has performed the labors is William Thresher, of Boston. The scenery is furnished by the Rialto Dramatic Company, of Pittsfield. Connected with the stage are five commodious dressing-rooms. Beneath the stage is a large amount of storage room where the settees can all be placed on occasions when the floor is desired for dancing and such purposes. To the right of the entrance to the main hall is a pleasant ticket office. On the same floor as the main hall, and to the right and left of the entrance, fronting on the street, are commodious offices 16 ft. by 18 ft. in size, and with an ante room, 10 feet square, in the rear. The office to the left of the entrance will be used by the Selectmen of the town, as their headquarters, and the use to which the other will be put has not yet been determined. The main hall will be lighted with a handsome chandelier of twenty-four lights.

THE BASEMENT

is large and has a considerable amount of space to be utilized. Entrance is gained by stairs from above and by doors from the side of the building. The regular dining hall is 33ft. by 45ft. The engine room is 25ft. by 35ft. and close by the side of it is a cistern which will hold 100 hogsheads of water. A lock-up, 15ft. by 20ft., will furnish accommodations for any unruly ones. The extreme southern end of the basement is 28ft. by 70ft. and will make a fine store room. On the occasion of the grand opening this will be one of the dining rooms. The heat for the main hall is generated in a large furnace furnished by H. C. Pooler, and which came originally from the manufactory of Wood, Bishop & Co. The brick work for the block was done by Norton & Purington, of Waterville; the wood-work was under the entire management of Preston Hersey, of Pittsfield; the plastering was done by Noble & Josslyn, of Pittsfield, and the painting and frescoing was designed and executed by Joseph Hill, Jr., also of Pittsfield.

LADIES' UNION HALL CLUB.

The ladies have manifested from the first deep interest in the projected hall and have offered encouragement to the promoters by rendering a vast amount of assistance. Some time ago the Ladies' Union Hall Club was formed, with Miss Nellie M. Fancey as president, Mrs. Levi Greenleaf as secretary and Mrs. R. H. Conant treasurer. The ladies furnish the furniture for the main hall and also the chandeliers out of the proceeds of the grand fair to be conducted by them during the opening week.

THE GRAND OPENING

of Union Hall will consist of a four days' celebration to come off on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, May 15th to 18th, and is looked forward to with the deepest interest by every one in that vicinity. The programme embraces in addition to the fair an entertainment, concert and ball. The ladies have full charge of the fair and have been making preparations for many months. Donations have been received from all over New England for this occasion. Andrews' Orchestra, of Bangor, will be in attendance during the four days and furnish music. On the opening evening (Tuesday) the Rialto Dramatic Company of Pittsfield will present the Octoroon. On Wednesday evening a grand ball will be given, with [illegible] music from [illegible]. [illegible] concert will be given by eminent talent. Friday (the closing) night will be celebrated with a grand ball, when special trains will be run from Bangor, Dexter, Newport and all intermediate stations. A very large number of course tickets have been sold and a great success is assured. Several hundred dollars worth of presents will be given away during the fair, and among the gifts is a gold watch, for which it is understood there will be a competitor among the ladies of Bangor. Meridian Lodge, F. & A. M., and Phlentoma Lodge, I. O. O. F., have general charge of the grand festival and the money raised is to be used to buy jointly for the two lodges stock in the Pittsfield Union Hall Company, several thousand dollars being needed, in addition to that already pledged, to defray the expense of the edifice.

The writer would express thanks for the polite attentions and genial hospitality extended him during his stay in Pittsfield by Wm Dobson, Esq., the popular Representative to the Legislature from that town.

PENSION FRAUDS.

The Charges Against Messrs. Friend and Benjamin.

The Portland Press, of Monday, publishes a statement of the charges upon which indictments have been found by the U. S. Grand Jury against John C. Friend, of Etna, and Dr. John B. Benjamin, of Carmel, for alleged conspiracy to defraud pensioners and the Government. The Press says that information received at the Pension Office led to investigation, resulting, as alleged, in discovering that Friend, as a claim agent, and Benjamin, as physician, were making contracts with ex-soldiers by which they received exorbitant sums for services in securing pensions. A contract made by a man named Howard Grant with Friend, by which the former agreed to pay $100 to the latter if he secured him a pension, accidentally got into a package of papers Grant showed another lawyer in Bangor whom he visited on other business. The Bangor lawyer told Grant the contract was illegal, and sent the contract to the Department. In reply to the Department, Friend said that after the contract was made he remembered the law forbidding the agent to accept more than $10, and therefore told Grant the contract was worthless and to tear it up. But, according to Friend's story, Grant kept the contract, and thus the whole affair came out. It is alleged that Friend prepared the cases and Benjamin gave the certificates of disability, and the Press says the Government has some twenty cases made out in which they obtained at least $100 each. In the case of Marshall Grant it is charged that he paid them one-half of his pension amounting to $550. It is also said that a client who received a check at Dixmont for $1,200 pension money was followed by Friend and Benjamin, who demanded $300 a piece but accepted $100 a piece. On Friday last a Deputy U. S. Marshal went to Etna and Carmel and arrested Benjamin but did not find Friend. Dr. Benjamin has employed H. D. Hadlock, of Portland, and John Benson, of Newport, as counsel, and protests that he is wrongfully accused. His trial was assigned for to-day. He is a prominent and well-known physician of Carmel. John C. Friend has also for years been a prominent and influential citizen of his town, and his friends declare the reports against him exaggerated and unjust. The indictment of two men so well known has caused quite a ripple of excitement throughout the neighboring circuit of towns, and the developments will be watched with interest.

THE ROLLER SKATING RINK

Successful Opening at Norombega Hall Last Evening.

The Bangor Roller Skating Rink was opened last evening in Norombega Hall most auspiciously. The attendance was very large and great interest was manifested by all present. Roller skating promises to become as popular in Bangor as in other cities of New England.

The Bangor Band was on the stage and discoursed selections at intervals during the evening. The galleries were thronged with spectators and the floor was covered with merry skaters. Between nine and half past Prof. William Ed Livesey gave an exhibition of fancy skating and astonished everyone by his marvelous exploits. His skating was wonderful and brought forth thunders of applause.

The rink will be open on Mondays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, both afternoon and evening. Only the Winslow Parlor Skate will be allowed in the hall. The price of admission will be 10 cents in the afternoon and 15 cents in the evening. On Wednesday and Saturday afternoons, children will be admitted for half price. Music will be furnished on Wednesday and Saturday. The management intend that the best of order shall prevail.

AMUSEMENTS.

Baird's Minstrels.

There will doubtless be a large audience at the Opera House this evening, when Baird's Mammoth Minstrels will make their last appearance for this season. A programme replete with music, fun and specialty acts is promised. Seats may be secured at the box office.

Frank Mayo.

The sale of seats for Mayo's "Davy Crockett" will open at the box office to-morrow morning. This is the tenth year of the drama, and its drawing powers seem to be as good as in the first. It is a play that is rich in beauty, sentiment and noble aspirations. Its central figure is that of the honest, courageous and chivalric Crockett's and its outlines in substance have in them everything to admire.

May Day Festival.

A May Festival, under the auspices of the Ladies' Crusade, will be given in City Hall this evening. The doors open at six and the entertainment commences at eight. The programme arranged is a very attractive one. The children who will take part in the "May Queen," have been under the instruction of Mrs. Davenport, and this will certainly assure a successful presentation of the play.

Notes.

The complimentary benefit to Mr. F. A. Owen will occur at the Opera House on Thursday evening, May 24th. "Rosedale" will be the attraction.

The amusement season of 1882-3 is rapidly drawing to a close.

Baird's Minstrels will make a street parade at noon to-day.

A special train will be run from Oldtown next Friday evening to Frank Mayo's "Davy Crockett."

"WORTH ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD," AND MORE VALUABLE THAN GOLD OR JEWELS.

Mr. LOVELL BULLOCK, of No. 37 Westminster street, Providence, R. I., when called upon a few days since, exclaimed: "You please say that it is worth its weight in gold, for I have tested it myself, and know whereof I affirm." Mr. B. says further: "I had been sick a year or more with general debility and pains and a very lame back, which I supposed was Rheumatism, as I had been afflicted from early childhood at intervals with Inflammatory Rheumatism. About a year ago, when my health began to fail, I paid no special attention to it, and kept about my business as usual, but during the past six months I had run down in health so fast that at times I was unable to get to my business. I would start out in the morning in fair condition, and the pains and aches would come upon me so severely that if I was sitting it would be impossible for me to arise without assistance, or if I was standing when the attack came upon me I would be unable to sit down without great suffering from the intense pains, and found that the plasters and liniments which I was using were of no permanent benefit, and I was obliged to leave my business temporarily. At this time a member of my family read to me an editorial communication from our leading daily paper of the wonderful restoration to health of a near friend, who had been restored from severe sickness and intense suffering of long duration by the use of Hunt's Remedy. By the earnest solicitation of this friend I was induced to try Hunt's Remedy, not knowing nor thinking that I had any disease of the Kidneys. I commenced to take it according to directions, and before finishing the first bottle I was relieved of the pains in my back, and my general health was much improved. I continued the use of the medicine until I was completely cured of all aches and pains, and I cheerfully recommend Hunt's Remedy to all sufferers from Rheumatism and Kidney Diseases."

CHAINING A CONVICT.

With a view of putting a stop to the murderous assaults that have recently been committed on warders by convicts at the Dartmoor Prison, in England, and in order to maintain the discipline of the establishment, the authorities, acting under directions from the Home Secretary, put Thomas Jones, a convict from Liverpool, upon his trial for maliciously wounding John Staddon, assistant warder, on January 9. The prisoner was brought from the punishment cells to the office, in charge of two warders. He walked quietly enough to the office, apparently in ignorance of what was about to take place. Directly he was brought inside the door and was confronted by the magistrates, governor, deputy governor and others inside the railings, he appeared stupefied for the moment, and then suddenly remembering where he was, he said to the warders, in an insolent and defiant tone, "What's the matter—what are they going to do?" He was told by the warders to be quiet and behave himself. Jones, however, violently exclaimed, "Hang me if you like, but don't shoot me," and immediately, although he was held by two powerfully built warders, struck out right and left, kicking at the officers and ferociously endeavoring to bite them.

One warder promptly twisted his leg around Jones to prevent him kicking, a second firmly gripped his arms from behind, while a third, who had rushed to their assistance, grasped the nape of the prisoner's neck, in order to stop his endeavor to use his teeth. Even the efforts of these three men to hold Jones were insufficient. Handcuffs were slipped on the wrists of the prisoner, who, however, still resisted savagely, endeavored to bite the officers, and although held bodily by warders, continued his mad struggles. A pair of shackles were sent for, and on these being brought into the office the prisoner, who had evidently been shackled before, shuddered, and struggled more fiercely than ever. He was eventually jerked upon the ground and thrown on his back, where, after a most exciting struggle, the irons were tightly fastened around his legs. These measures failed to subdue the spirit of the prisoner, who violently wrestled in the hands of his keepers. A chain covered with leather was next procured and this was passed around the waist of the prisoner and then tightly secured to the iron gates or railings running across the room. Jones then worked himself up into a towering passion and it required the combined efforts of the warders to hold his head and shoulders.

During the examination of the principal warder, Moore, the prisoner's violence was even intensified; he hissed and spat at the witness and uttered incoherent exclamations which it was impossible to understand, biting at everybody and everything, like a mad dog, throughout the hearing. He was eventually committed for trial at the Devon assizes and carried back to his cell, where the handcuffs and shackles were removed. He thereupon smashed the window panes, tore his clothes to shreds and attempted to commit suicide by twisting his braces around his neck. The warders at once rushed to the cell, and on opening the door were again attacked by the prisoner. Once more the man was secured, his hands manacled behind his back, and he was finally removed to a dark cell and locked in, in the condition of absolute nudity to which he had reduced himself.

HOW A CIRCUS IS MOVED.

THE SCIENCE OF TAKING DOWN THE TENTS AND STARTING THEM FOR NEW FIELDS EXPLAINED.

Barnum's monster circus is now fairly on the road. There are four regular tents, all of which were put up for the first time Wednesday last. Three tents are each 300 feet long, and the main tent is 465 feet long. This is the largest tent ever seen in America, and 200,000 people can witness the performance under it. There are six centre-poles supporting it, besides hundreds of quarter-poles and half-poles. Besides three other tents—the menagerie, tent the museum tent and the elephant pavilion—there are half a dozen smaller tents, the largest being the dressing room, 150 feet long. Then there is the cooking tent, the wheelwright tent, the dinner-tent and sleeping-tent. Within these tents live, besides the numerous tigers, lions and other curiosities, 647 persons, each one of whom has a special duty to perform. The tent-folders, for instance, will have every stitch of this canvass packed in wagons two hours after the last performance.

As soon as the audience leave they begin work, and by unfastening two or three ropes the flags in the centre of the tent are let down by twenty men. The minute they touch the ground 200 men begin folding them and in two minutes every flag is packed away. Then the tent folders are divided among the tents. Mr. Bailey enters the principal tent, and when each quarter is held by a man, he counts one, and the quarter-poles slide away; two, and the side-ropes are unfastened from the inside; then the half-poles go, and the immense canvass is supported only by the centre-poles. At a word from Mr. Bailey the large support-ropes are untied, the tent sides slide down the centre-poles and is stretched upon the ground, with the six poles sticking in the air. The tent sections are then unhinged by special men, and 200 helpers get on their knees and rapidly fold up the sections. The main tent is packed in wagons twenty minutes after the audience leave, and in two hours everything connected with the circus is ready to move away, and only the little rings of earth remain to say, "Here's where the circus was."

To look at the men no one would suppose they could work as quickly as they can. They were lying idly around, either reclining on sawdust heaps, or rolled up in blankets on the damp ground. But this is only a part of their training, and when the performance begins these same men, rolled in the same blankets, will be found lying around the tents. Only they will have whips, and sleep with one eye open for boys who attempt to see Jumbo without paying. The putting up of tents is not of as much interest as the taking down, for the showman generally gets to a place in the morning and the whole day remains to erect a tent. Very few people know the amount of money expended in order to make a circus pay in the country. Of course only one town is stopped at in a day, but people living within thirty miles of the town are expected to come to the circus.

There are 114 men who precede the circus, drumming up trade, the most particular of whom are six advance agents. The first advance agent goes to a town, has a talk with the Mayor about the circus and buys some bread from the leading bakers; the second advance agent has a talk with the Mayor and buys meat and coal; the third advance agent comes with a steam calliope and pastes up his bills while the calliope is playing, and buys more bread and meat; the fourth agent is a press agent, and fondles the rural agent's children; the fifth buys bread, meat, coal, hires ground, fondles children, plays the calliope, pastes bills and writes sensational and imaginative stories for the paper; the sixth advance agent does what all the other advance agents have done, only he does it all over two or three times, and makes excursion rates with the railroads. Then comes the press agent who does more imaginative writing. Now the show is advertised and Jumbo arrives. Towns as far away as Columbus, O., are now undergoing the tortures of the calliopes, although the circus will not get there for four months.

A WOODEN DOCK FOR ST. JOHNS.

The government of Newfoundland has signed a contract with Messrs. E. & J. Simpson, of Brooklyn, New York, for the construction of a wooden dock in the harbor of St Johns', to be completed in two years. Its length is to be 600 feet, breadth 100 feet, and depth 20 feet; large enough, as can be seen, to accommodate any steamers crossing the Atlantic ocean. The work is to be in every respect equal to the Simpson dry dock, of Brooklyn, New York, in which large steamers find ready admittance. The cost is to be $650,000, and the contractors agree to lease it for ten years, at $15,000 a year. The necessary funds to erect the dock can be easily obtained in Newfoundland at 4 per cent. From the large amount of business that will undoubtedly present itself, it is thought it will cost the colony about $10,000 per annum to keep this great desideratum in operation. At the end of ten years it is confidently expected that the business will have so increased, that the dock will be leased for the full sum required to cover the cost of building, so that the expense to the colony will be nothing.

The erection of this structure will be a great convenience to vessels crossing the Atlantic, St. John's being the easiest point of access to all craft in the passage between Europe and America. The local trade will be a source of considerable income to the new enterprise, also, there being a fleet of twenty-five or more steamers engaged in the seal fishery, besides the local mail steamers, and a large fleet of sailing vessels, to make any repairs upon which the most primitive methods have at present to be adopted.

A movement was made last year to build a stone structure, which would have cost at least a million of dollars and consumed very much more time in its erection. But the project was abandoned, as it is proved that a dry dock of wood is very much superior to one of stone. To keep a stone dock in repair would be a source of heavy expense, the action of the frost being very great; on the other hand, experience has shown that a wooden dock receives but little harm from frost, and will require no repairs for twenty-five years, if well built. This contract is subject to the action of the legislature, but the government is in a large majority, and the contract may be considered ratified.

The Mystery of the Law!
A lady from the rural district was somewhat astonished at being accosted on Main street last week by one of our policemen and told with that rare grace and charming "bonhomie," (one of Aristotle's pet words) characteristic of the "force," tha, "I beg pardon, madam, but we have special orders from the Mayor to remove all obstructions from the side walk, and unless you choose to continue your peripatetic rambles in the street, I shall be obliged to convey you to the Inquisitorial Halls of Justice. She had on a pair of those rapidly known boots," known in every metropolis from Oldtown to Hampden, made from the hides of the Brazilian Dodo, known as the dongolas; hence the policeman's request. If anybody cares to subject herself to such indignities as the above, we would say to them that we have the boots named and our heart revolts at asking $5 for them, as some do; $1.50 is all our conscience will allow us to ask. If, however, you want a boot with some style about it, you will shun these goods and wear none but the old reliable
BURT BOOTS,
They have no equal yet. A certain dealer who is trying to make people think he has the best shoe for gentlemen's wear, speaks of them as "covering a good deal of ground." Quite right; and could the order of things be inverted, and the wearer walk on his hands, the demand for umbrellas would be light. When you want a really fine shoe, as good as any custom-made, get obtainable of us only, and when you want any first-class article in the whole array of shoe dealer's goods, you will find it with us. "A shocking bad hat" indeed, is a poor silk one, but no such language can be truthfully applied to the hats we furnish to measure; they are conceded by all to be perfection itself. They have an air, gloss and gossamer lightness that the clumsy hand-made hat cannot acquire.
THE CURTIS GOODS,

"Where The Boot Pinches."
It seems to pinch certain shoe dealers all over judging from their frequent attempts to make ladies think they have for sale a boot with the same stock in it as our specialty contains. Once more and never again, for a week, we say that unless they are plainly stamped inside with the registered trade-mark, D-O-N-G-O-L-A, that they are base frauds. We shall soon place on our counters another boot (Le Mignon) that is destined to be a thorn in the flesh of shoe venders who ask $4.25 for a French Kid Boot, for we shall run them, in order to introduce them quickly, for $3.00, which is but a slight advance from the cost. They will be fully equal to the "old reliable" high figures, and better in one respect, for they will not turn purple at the seams after a little wear. The old historians tell us that when Diogenes was on the Greek circuit that he used to sleep in a tub. If he could have had a pair of those "fine shoes" from across the street he could have dispensed with it and slept in one of his shoes. The
SHURTLEFF SHOES
are not quite so roomy but they seem to be general favorites with the gentlemen. We are sole agents for them. For Vital Questions!!

Ask the most eminent physician
Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves and curing all forms of nervous complaints, giving natural, childlike, refreshing sleep always?
And they will tell you unhesitatingly
"Some form of Hops!"
CHAPTER I.
Ask any or all of the most eminent physicians:
"What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, diabetes, retention or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women,"
"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically, "Buchu."
Ask the same physicians
"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia, constipation, indigestion, biliousness, malarial fever, ague, &c.," and they will tell you:
"Mandrake! or Dandelion!"
Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable
And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed which is so varied in its operations that no disease or ill health can possibly exist or resist its power, and yet it is Harmless for the most frail woman, weakest invalid or smallest child to use.

WHEAT BITTERS
THE BEST AND The Richest BLOOD, BRAIN and NERVE
-F-O-O-D-
CAREFULLY PREPARED, THOROUGHLY TESTED, ACCEPTABLE AND RELIABLE.
The Phosphates of the Wheat are its most valuable food property, and are, when properly prepared, the most acceptable nutriment with which to build up the system.
The Blood, Brain and Nerves are the forces which bear the strain of every day work and life, and in order to save sickness it is wise to BUILD FOR HEALTH.
Wheat Bitters are prepared, not by fermentation but by solution and are richest in the Phosphates, while the starch and impure matter are eliminated. These make in themselves a basis, to which is added the best and choicest medicinal qualities necessary to make it a tonic and bitter. It is at once healthful, pleasant to the taste and must not be confounded with the thousand and one cheap alcoholic bitters which are sold as cure-alls. Medicine is doubly effective when used with food, so as to nourish while it corrects.

AYER'S
Cherry Pectoral.
No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs, none so trifled with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.
A Terrible Cough Cured.
"In 1857 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL a permanent cure was effected. I am now 62 years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me. HORACE FAIRBROTHER."
Rockingham, Vt., July 15, 1882.
Croup.—A Mother's Tribute.
"While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a bottle of which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight in less than half an hour the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the CHERRY PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours,
MRS. EMMA GEDNEY."
159 West 128th St., New York, May 16, 1882.
"I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it the most effectual remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried. A. J. CRANE."
Lake Crystal, Minn., March 13, 1882.
"I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.
JOSEPH WALDEN."
Byhalia, Miss., April 5, 1882.
"I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing as I do that but for its use I should long since have died from lung troubles. E. BRAGDON."
Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882.
No case of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine.

CERTAIN SHAMS.
Swindlers and their Victims—How Careless People Suffer in Health and Pocket.
Every streak of sunshine creates a shadow, and behind every truth crouches its corresponding lie. Whosoever has not been in some way fooled and robbed by swindlers and their works has had better luck in life than most mortals. In fact the best witnesses to the value of a given article are the counterfeits and imitations which seek to share its success without possessing a fraction of its merit. Hence it goes without saying that are pursued by a host of miserable and worthless imitators, eager to appropriate what they can of the fruits of its victories. These leeches commonly take the form of a cheap plaster.
Now, these harmless and worthless plasters would be detected in a minute if people were careful in reading and remembering names. But most persons merely glance at them, understand partially and forget instantly. What results? This. Desiring to buy BENSON'S CAPCINE PLASTER, their own carelessness enables some storekeeper or druggist, who cares more for five or ten cents additional profit than for the sweets of an approving conscience, to roll them up instead some cheap imitation with a similar name. The deceit often works, while the fraudulent plasters never do.
Don't permit yourself to be thus victimized for lack of a moment's care. BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTERS have stood the test of science and experience and are the product of both. Examine the article, and satisfy yourself that the word CAPCINE is cut in it.

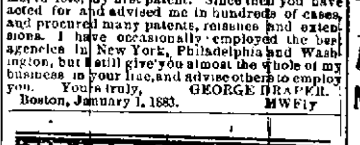
MANHOOD.



KNOW THYSELF.
A Book for Every Man!
Young, Middle-aged and Old!
The untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; or, Self-Preservation. Exhausted Vitality, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, or Vitality Impaired by the Errors of Youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.
28th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1.25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION, is beyond all comparison the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the married or single can either require or wish to know but what is fully explained.—London Lancet.
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION, is a marvel of art and beauty, warranted to be a better medical book in every sense than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.—[Author.
